System Installation

Note:

eCotton programs operate on different versions of Microsoft Windows.

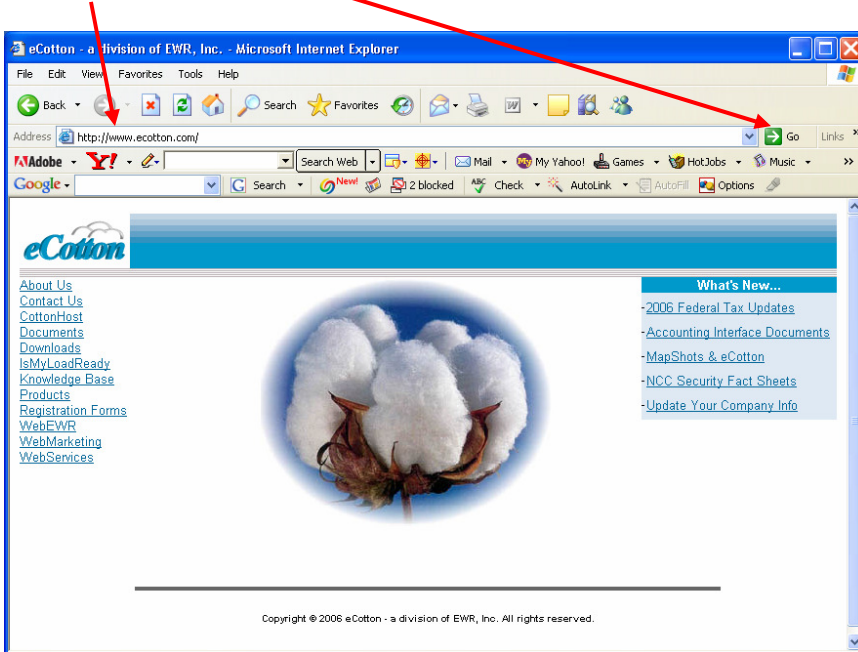

- Windows XP
- Windows 2000

The appearance of the Windows screens using XP are somewhat different than when using 2000. Although functionally, they do similar things.

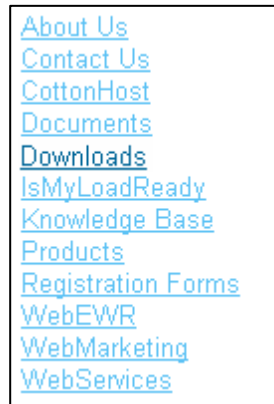

eCotton only supports our programs running in the Windows versions listed above.

www.eCotton.com

The eCotton programs are downloaded from the eCotton.com web site. Type in the address and click on Go.

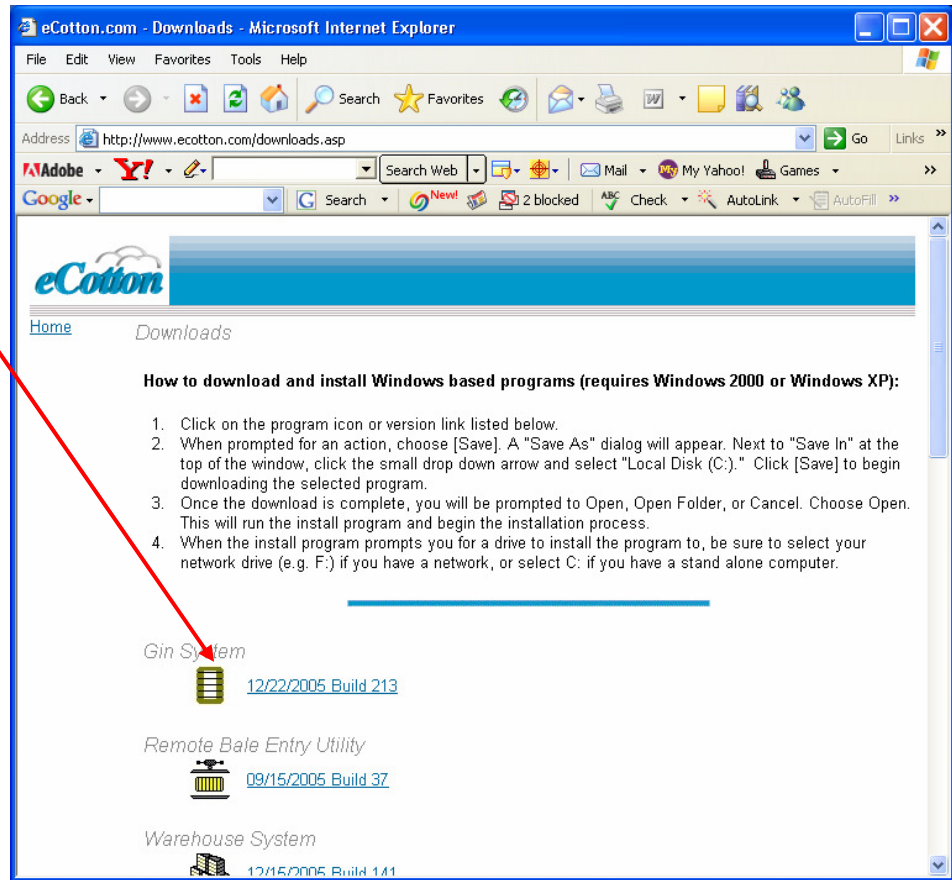

Select Downloads from the list to the left.

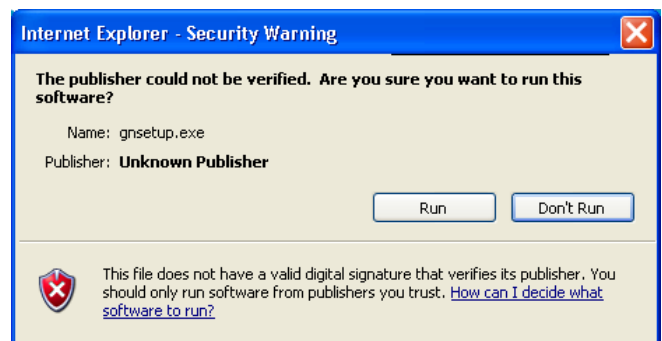

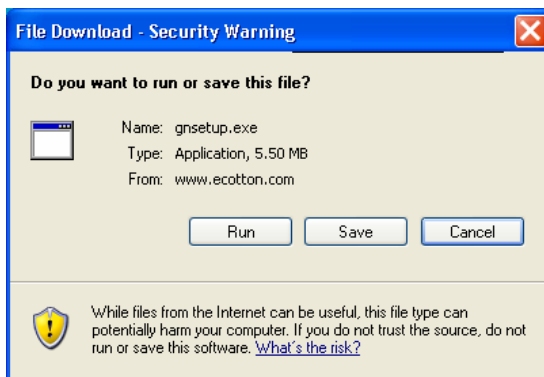

Read ‘How to download and install Windows based programs (requires Windows 2000 or Windows XP)’

Click the program icon or the link beside the icon to download the selected program.

The file download appears. Click on Run. If the security warning screen displays, click Run again since eCotton is the publisher.

Once downloaded, the eCotton install utility loads. Choose the drive that the eCotton program is going to be installed on. Click the Finish button to complete installation.
